By signing below, I accept responsibility for any transactions which occur between any account or sub-account of those listed above as related to cross-account processing and cross-account overdraft. Any transferring account owner can terminate access to these functions at any time. I also agree to accept responsibility for any overdraft loan advances that occur because of cross-account processing or cross-account overdraft. It is my responsibility to restrict access to the functions mentioned above, and I agree to hold Chicago Patrolmen’s Federal Credit Union harmless for any losses the credit union or I may incur due to cross-account processing or cross-account overdraft transactions or access. This agreement appends the Account Agreement and Disclosures.
